Project Period: October 1, 2023 – December 30, 2024

Locations: Ijegan-Egba (Amuwo Odofin LGA) & Iyana-Sashi (Ojo LGA), Lagos State

Funding Partner: Freedom Fund (Grant from the US Department)

PROJECT OVERVIEW

This project was designed to combat the exploitation and abuse of child domestic workers (CDWs) in Lagos State. The initiative focused on strengthening legal frameworks, raising awareness, and empowering communities to protect child domestic workers from maltreatment.

Key components of the project included policy advocacy, community engagement, technological innovation, and direct support for CDWs and their guardians. Through partnerships with government agencies, civil society organizations, and community stakeholders, the project contributed to legal reforms, behavioral change, and improved child protection mechanisms.

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

1. Advocacy and Policy Reforms:

The Advocacy and Policy Reforms initiative conducted a comprehensive review of 30 legal frameworks including 9 international, 15 national, and 6 state-level policies to identify gaps in the protection of child domestic workers. This analysis revealed seven critical policy gaps, leading to the development of 24 actionable strategies for reform. To drive policy change, two policy dialogues were hosted with 30 key stakeholders, resulting in five policy revisions. Additionally, a five-member expert panel discussion was convened to spotlight pressing issues surrounding child domestic work, fostering informed advocacy and legislative progress.

2. Community Empowerment & Behavioural Change:

The Community Empowerment & Behavioral Change initiative fostered grassroots advocacy by establishing two Child Domestic Worker (CDW) Rights Forums, engaging 131 participants (111 females, 20 males) to champion child rights. To strengthen community action, 45 community champions were trained and inaugurated, equipping them to lead sensitization efforts, monitor cases, and report violations. Additionally, 76 community members participated in targeted dialogues aimed at shifting perceptions and fostering behavioral change regarding child domestic labor, reinforcing a culture of protection and accountability.

3. Awareness & Public Engagement:

The Awareness & Public Engagement campaign amplified advocacy efforts by distributing 3,000 awareness materials and broadcasting four audio-visual productions in three languages, reaching over 50,000 people. To further engage communities, the Game4Child Rights Initiative was launched, using interactive learning to educate 60 children and adults on child rights and protection, fostering greater awareness and proactive advocacy.

4. Empowerment of Child Domestic Workers & Guardians:

The Empowerment of Child Domestic Workers (CDWs) & Guardians initiative provided 68 child domestic workers with rights education and reporting tools to protect themselves from exploitation. Additionally, welfare support was extended to all 68 CDWs, enhancing their living conditions. To reinforce child protection at the household level, 63 guardians received specialized training on child safeguarding and protection practices, fostering a safer and more supportive environment for vulnerable children.

5. Technological Innovation:

The Technological Innovation initiative saw the successful deployment of the TALKAM Human Rights App, significantly enhancing the reporting and intervention of child abuse cases. This digital tool has strengthened accessibility to justice and support services, empowering individuals to report violations efficiently and securely, thereby reinforcing efforts to protect vulnerable children.

KEY FINDINGS DURING THE PROJECT

1. Cultural norms, economic hardship, and religious beliefs contribute to parents sending children into domestic work, often justifying exploitation as a means of discipline.
2. Gender disparity: For every one male CDW, three female CDWs exist, making girls three times more vulnerable to exploitation.
3. Legal challenges: Some stakeholders do not recognize child domestic work as legal employment, causing gaps in protection policies.

IMPACT HIGHLIGHTS

7 key policy gaps identified in child domestic worker protection.

2 community forums established, focusing on child rights and protection.

45 community champions trained and mobilized for grassroots advocacy.

Approximately 350 community members sensitized through champion-led activities.
